Know all men by these presents: Ryan David Hartwig² a man, is Grantor/ Trustor and Benefactor of a certain counterfeit Birth Certificate Trust scribed as RYAN DAVID HARTWIG on State of Alaska, Inc. Corporation (D&B No. 078198983), on all STATE and FEDERAL Inc. Documents. I, Ryan David Hartwig, am a very real party in interest, in this matter; and have never knowingly waived any of my sovereign, God given, common law Biblical rights as a man.

I DECLARE and Decree: 1) Force Majeure;³ and 2) Rescission of all U.S. Inc. Contracts for Non-Disclosure, i.e. silence⁴ with its Fraud in the Factum⁵. Ryan David aka Ryan, of the family Hartwig: 1) Cannot serve two masters; and 2) is not and cannot be two (2) people according to my/our Christian Creed... that of the Christian Nation, which is one nation, a race of people under God, the Father of all of which I am: 1) a child of Elohim divinely conceived on 10-5-1986; but 2) press-ganged⁶ by "skull and bones," pirate terrorists; and 3) child trafficked immediately after taking my first breath on July 5, 1987, via a counterfeit birth certificate; and 4) via trickery, forced into joining and financially supporting an evil cult under Roman Catholic Canon Laws.

² Ryan David Hartwig: a Unique, True, Divine, Holy Spirit of Truth, "sacred aboriginal" name and metaphor for gifts of the sprit and venue in the land of the living. Ezekiel 32:9

³ Force majeure: is a provision of unconscionable contracts that frees a party from obligation if an extraordinary event (trespass, press-ganging) directly prevents one party from performing.

Statement of Censorship and Damage Claims

Whistleblower (WBO), Ryan-David: family of Hartwig, comes with evidence as a real party in interest, a victim and damaged party and intervener with other Plaintiffs and WBO's that have brought their evidence and claims before the captioned court.

Summary

I exposed Facebook and went public in 2020 as a whistleblower. Since then, in an act of retaliation from Facebook, I have been heavily censored by the mainstream media, my Instagram page with 4k followers deleted, and my evidence ignored or plagiarized. My Twitter account was deleted with 35k followers and I lost followers and the ability to communicate with my audience. Despite having done several hundred interviews, my reach has been limited. Web-Page: <https://www.ryanhartwig.org/recent>

⁷ A bondsman was Biblically considered by Roman lawlessness the property of a Roman citizen, holding no right to leave his place of service. Said lawlessness is present today.

⁸ An indentured servant or indentured labor is an employee within a system of unfree labor who is bound by a contract to work for a particular employer for a fixed period of time. The employer is often permitted to assign the labor of an indenturee to a third party

I have been damaged by Mark Zuckerberg and Facebook/Meta who claim they don't censor political speech, yet all of the evidence I uncovered proves that they do censor political speech, including my own.

I am claiming damages, plus exemplary damages plus punitive damages totaling $2 million USD.

Supporting Evidence

From March of 2018 until February 2020 I worked as a content moderator for Cognizant Technology Solutions whose client was Facebook. I reviewed over 100,000 pieces of content for them over the course of nearly 2 years. It was a wide variety of content, including election content, political content, memes, pornography, direct messages, posts, videos, suicide videos, wrist slitting, torture of animals, torture of humans, cartel videos, terrorist content, and much more.

I reached out to the journalist organization known as Project Veritas after I discovered Facebook instructing us to make exceptions to their own rules that allowed attacks against certain ideologies and political beliefs.

I filmed with a hidden camera for 9 months, and I uncovered many newsworthy exceptions that Facebook made to influence the 2020 election in the United States.

I still have hours of footage that hasn't been reviewed. For example, one 10/10/2019 I filmed Daniel Wright who was a supervisor and had been to Facebook headquarters in Ireland.

Ryan (myself): "And now with Ukraine, like in 2016 there was a lot of election fraud, and now with Ukraine and this whole whistleblower thing, who knows if there's goanna be like more fraud, I wonder if Facebook's goanna be like clamping down on that kind of thing.

Daniel: "Oh I bet. They've been scrambling for the past couple of years to make sure that it's not goanna happen again."

In another conversation, Daniel Wright explained that the entire reason for bringing all of the jobs onshore to the United States was because of Russian involvement in the 2016 election. Cognizant received a 3 year, $300 million dollar contract starting in 2017 and began a hiring rush, quickly hiring over 1,000 content moderators.

Most all of this is detailed in my book, Behind the Mask of Facebook, although I use aliases for many individuals, including Daniel Wright.

One important individual is Shawn Browder who was the policy team leader and liaison for Facebook. He would be an important person to give testimony regarding Facebook's role in influencing the public narrative and the elections.

Below is a list of 44 examples of how Facebook influenced the American discourse and also worldwide. If you can imagine how many viral posts were boosted or removed at Facebook's behest, you can understand how many billions of people's opinions were influenced or changed directly because of Facebook's decisions.

1. Kaitlin Bennett Feces Meme—allowed despite violating the policy

Facebook's decision:

"Corey Munion to Cognizant CO Trending

November 2, 2019

#trending #doitforstate #kaitlinbennett #defecation

SRT ID: 746334342438681

The photo above is being circulated in different queues, a resurface of the rumor passed around earlier this year that it is a phot of Kaitlin Bennett defecating on herself at a party. There is nothing out there debunking the statement currently and many jobs contain the same context, that it is her on the ground. As she is considered a public figure, she would not be covered under that portion of bullying and no action should be taken on this content.

No action > benign

[reaction] You and 426 others "

Context: Kaitlin Bennett is a right wing influencer known as the AR-15 girl. She should have been protected under Facebook's Sexual Exploitation of Adults policy or Bullying policy but was not.

SEA 2.3.1 "Secretly taken non-commercial imagery mocking, sexualizing or exposing the PDITI, aka "creep shots" of real adults with: 1. Depiction of "upskirts" OR 2. Depiction of sexual activity OR 3. Depiction of a commonly sexualized body part (breasts, groin, butt, and/or upper leg/thigh) OR 4. Any of the above with captions OR overlay text OR digital alteration OR audio which mocks, sexualizes or exposes the PDITI"

Note: PDITI means Person Depicting In The Image.

The Operational Guidelines section of the Sexual Exploitation of Adults policy describes Revenge Porn and Creep Shots.

"H. What is considered a "private setting" within our NCII/Revenge Porn policy?

1. While a public setting would be a space that is open and accessible to the public (e.g. roads, parks, beaches, town/city squares, etc), we would consider a private setting to be somewhere where you would not expect many members of the public to be at one time. E.g.

1. a setting where it is not possible determine if the imagery was taken in a public setting (e.g. close-up of genitalia).

2. a setting that is enclosed and includes one or few people (e.g. anywhere in a residential building, apartment, car, hotel room, bathrooms, office, bedroom)

3. a setting that may be outdoors but is "private" in nature due to the limited number of people in the imagery or due to it's seclusion (e.g. people engaged in a sexual act within a car parked on a public street)

Note: Please disregard photos that have been produced for media or pornography (e.g. for Playboy magazine, etc)."

"J. What is the scope of "vengeful context" for content to be considered revenge porn/NCII?

1. When the intent to share sexually explicit material is to humiliate/intimidate the PDITI or to cause them distress or embarrassment. Intent can be 1) explicit (accompanying vengeful text or captions or inherently vengeful words or phrases) or 2) implicit (posting the material in a dedicated space created for the purpose of Revenge Porn/NCII such as a group or page with a vengeful title). "

To summarize this, Facebook policy doesn't allow you take a photo of someone without their permission and post the photo if it shows someone in a sexual situation (e.g. skirt pulled up). And Facebook doesn't allow revenge porn, but there has to be enough context that it's revenge porn.

In addition to the SEA/Revenge Porn policy, Facebook also knew that college co-eds would take embarrassing photos of each other, so a completely separate policy known as the Bullying policy also covers these types of photos. Bullying policy section 4.6 states what is not allowed, "Target private individuals or involuntary minor public figures with: depiction of others in the process of , or right after menstruating, urinating, vomiting, or defecating where context further degrades the individual or contains an expression of disgust."

If you hover over the phrase "further degrades" it defines "further degrades" as

- Laughter ("hahaha")
- Negative character or ability claims
- Positive reinforcement ("he deserved that")
- Encouraging the broadening of distribution/audience (e.g. Like, share, Tag, etc)
- Mocking

2. Bullying Slang List allows triumphumper but deletes snowflake

Facebook has their own internal list of what words/attacks are considered bullying. Calling someone a snowflake is more severe than calling someone a Triumphumper. This shows how easily Facebook could allow attacks against Trump supporters to stay up on the platform while removing attacks against leftists.

I can call someone a Triumphumper all day and it would never be removed even if reported, but if I call someone a Snowflake or gender confused it would be removed once reported.

Things that are deleted with a name/face match

Ignore means they are ignored even when reported by the person being attacked

Troll= negative character claim

Attention/internet whore= negative character claim

Ignorant = negative character claim

Pedophile = ignore

Nazi = ignore

Triumphumper = ignore

Gender confused = Claim about gender identity

Fucktard =negative character claim
Libtard = negative character claim
Trumptard = negative character claim
Racist/Sexist = ignore
Feminazi= negative character claim
Snowflake = negative character claim

4. Exaggeration of speech—get Trump's dick out of your mouth –Rule Change

From my book, Behind the Mask of Facebook

'Facebook gave specific guidance to allow the phrase "Get Trump's dick out of your mouth". Normally, this would be a claim of sexual activity. For example, if I say, "John Smith had sex with Mary", this would get deleted no matter who reports it.

Facebook is saying that we shouldn't take this in its literal meaning. That we shouldn't interpret this as Trump literally having sex with a constituent and inserting his dick into their mouth.

Now, this would apply to any politician. So technically I should be able to say, "Get Kamala Harris's dick out of your mouth". There is some overlap with the purposeful exposure policy here. So if I posted under Kamala's official page and I was advocating for her to engage in sexual activity with me, then that could be deleted. Phrases like "suck my dick" are considered targeted cursing so that would be allowed under Kamala's page. But if I said "@KamalaHarris I want to have sex with you", that would be deleted.

What's telling is that they are making these changes to allow more political discourse (if you consider putting a politician's dick in your mouth "political discourse") all while Trump is running for office. Why so much effort to modify the policy while Trump is running for office? We know there are many attacks against Trump supporters, and simultaneously Facebook is opening up the floodgates to allow more hate speech. This is no coincidence. We see the same modifications to the policy to help promote more attacks on police, which is explored in chapter 9 of this book.

Just like every other policy, Facebook's bullying policy has been weaponized and modified to conform to leftist ideology and to punish right-wing users of Facebook.'

5. Cops are Pigs—change in policy to allow calling cops. This allows more attacks against police

Facebook's Decision: (NFM = name/face match)

"Thach Tran to Cognizant: North America Team
September 27 (9/27/2019 10:02pm)
Parent Object: Police officer in uniform

Reported comment: all cops are pigs

Would we deleted to err on the side of the private individual depicted in the parent object and delete?

Since the update to KQ Y, the process/policy team at FB has given guidance that we should consider “pig” when targeting police as targeted cursing, which would require a NFM in order to delete. That is because of how the term is used in the NA market.”

Context:

To summarize the policy about cops

- The bullying policy disallows comparing any private individual to an animal considered culturally inferior. This does not require the person in the image to report it. Any person identified by name or photo that is compared to an animal is a violation of policy.
- An exception to this policy was given on 9/27/2019, thus calling cops pigs would be an ignore, unless the cop in the image reports the post. The only explanation given by Facebook was “That is because of how the term is used in the NA market.”
- Calling someone a pig isn’t targeted cursing, it’s calling them an animal. Facebook changed the definition of an attack in order to fit their own bias.

This post in SRT Workplace states that calling cops who are depicted in a picture is no longer a delete. Previously, we would delete these types of jobs, because the police officers depicted are private individuals and they are comparing them to animal, which doesn’t require a face match (NFM=no face match). Changing “pig” to targeted cursing now requires a name/face match, and it’s very unlikely for the cop to find and report a comment calling him a pig. The rationale for this change doesn’t make sense. The only reasoning they give is “That is because of how the term is used in the NA market.”

So I could take a picture of a cop on patrol and post it to Facebook with the caption: “This cop is a pig” and it would stay up forever. It could get shared thousands of times and the ONLY way it would get deleted is if that same cop reported the thousands of instances of that image and caption.

[reaction] You, Fabiola Alvear, Eunice Chacon and 445 others

Context from my book:

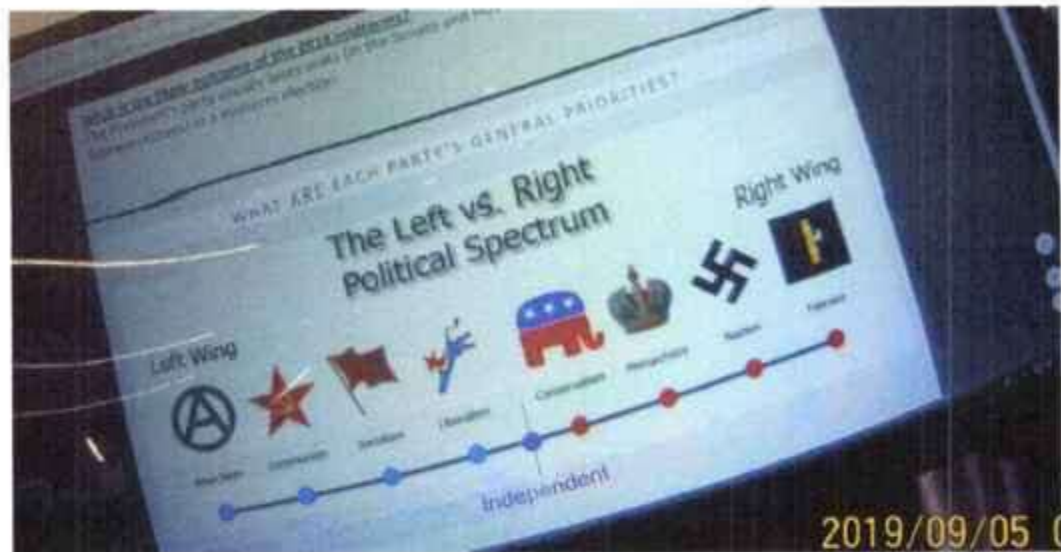

*This was a viral news story and was reported by Fox News and many other media outlets. In many instances the curse words were bleeped out of the video. Yet Facebook made a decision to delete this video across the board.

This video would definitely have drawn sympathy for Trump supporters and shows the vitriol and hatred that many Trump supporters receive for simply showing their support for President Trump.

The video shows a man forcefully removing a MAGA hat from a teenager. Since the victim was a minor, and the policy doesn't allow cursing at minors, guidance was given to delete this video. However, any condemnation context with a bullying violation should be allowed, and this caveat wasn't specified in the post. All the content moderators aligned to delete for this content. The reason they post things is so we're all actioning the same way.

- Cursing at a minor is a delete without a name or face match. Primarily we see this in text-based posts where we have a target, ex. Curtis., and they're calling him a dick or an idiot.
- However, the spirit of the policy is to prevent harm, according to Mill's Harm Principle. Re-sharing a video of an attack doesn't in and of itself violate Mill's Harm Principle. But if you're sharing it with the intent of mocking the individual, or the share caption is supporting the violation, then it should be taken down.
- If there is a condemning caption, then a video share should be allowed. But when people watch the video the main point isn't the cursing at the minor. The key point of the video is the attack on the MAGA-hat-victim. The cursing at the victim is ancillary.
- When you watch the video, the cursing isn't directed at you, and deleting an example of bullying doesn't help to raise awareness against bullying that occurs, regardless of your political bias.

This post is following Facebook policy by deleting posts advocating for violence. Valentin Santana is a pro-Nicolas Maduro figure, and the revolution being referred to is the Bolivarian Revolution, which commenced with Hugo Chavez (TRT World, 2019).

Valentin Santana is the leader of a “colectivo”, which is an armed community support group for the Chavez/Maduro regime (InSight Crime, 2018).

Regardless of whether you support the Maduro regime or not, this shows Facebook’s ability to quash an armed “revolution” in a foreign country.

Summary: As per policy regarding mocking of abortion, we need to have a real human depicted to delete under C & I [cruel and insensitive policy]. Currently fetuses are not considered as human, therefore this is not violating under delete C & I, and there is not abortion/abandonment context, so we will ignore.

“#593913434411516

So we consider “stillborn” as a baby since it was birthed, but would you consider it a premature death?

Action: Ignore > Benign

Reason: Interim to not treat stillborn as premature death”

G. Do herbal medicines for abortion violate our Regulated Goods Policy?

Yes if it clearly states the purpose is for abortion. This can be determined by signals in caption, packaging, abortion related imagery, etc.”

[HEADS UP + POLICY GUIDANCE] ALABAMA ABORTION BAN
[Category] #HeadsUp
[PRFireRisk] #yes
[Workflow] #CM
[Market] #NorthAmerica

[Summary] On Tuesday (May 14th) the Alabama Senate passed the Alabama Human Life Protection Act which was subsequently signed into law by Governor Ivey the following Wednesday (May 15th). The bill, which opponents note as a near ban, makes abortion a felony at any stage in pregnancy with limited exceptions excluding rape and incest. Penalties carry up to 99 years/life in prison for physicians. Similar bills have been ushered through state legislatures, including Georgia which recently banned abortions once a “fetal heartbeat can be detected” which usually occurs around 6 weeks. There are 14 additional states that have introduced or explored similar bills. Protests erupted around the country, including on social media. Pro-choice activists have increasingly shared condemning reactions while including detailed personal stories about abortion using the hashtag #YouKnowMe. Conversely, pro-life advocates continue to also be vocal on social media in demonstration of pro-life initiatives.

Hate Speech: All Hate Speech policies apply. Please be on the lookout for advocacy of violence against women, as well as dehumanizing speech.”

Separately, Alyssa Milano was posting the following: “Men shouldn’t be allowed to make laws about women’s bodies” which violates. Facebook made an exception for her.

We are seeing content trending around the recent anti-abortion law passed in Alabama. This image in particular has been raised to the client, as it meets our Hate Speech policy for Political Exclusion. However, given the newsworthy nature of the content, client has given us direction to IGNORE this image. As always, please be aware of further violations in caption and comments.

TLDR SOP TO REMOVE GRETARDED

Action to Take on Job: Delete

Issue or Abuse Type: Bullying

Summary: Spirit of the Policy call to Remove all instances of attacks aimed at Greta Thunberg using the term or hashtag, ‘Gretarded’, EXCEPT for when used in a condemning context.

- Effective 10/2/2019: FB has expanded this exception to include the terms “retard” or “retarded” in addition to “Gretarded”

Please reference the guidance found here.

Remember, standalone use of ‘gretard/gretarded’ would NOT be violating, however if we have context to determine the attack is towards Greta Thunberg (i.e. a comment of ‘gretarded’ on a picture of Greta, or re-sharing content containing Greta with the caption ‘gretard’) we should DELETE for B & H.

[Action] Delete > Cruel and Insensitive > Serious disease/disability

[Reasoning] Greta Thunberg is publicly known to suffer from autism, and the text overlay gives us further context that she is being mocked for her disability. Since she is depicted in the content, the correct action is to delete for C & I.

Note: Autism is considered a serious disability, so be on the lookout for Hate Speech violations. Additionally, she is a minor public figure and receives certain protections under our Bullying and Harassment policy."

22. Senator Fraser Anning egged by a minor—Facebook made exception to allow child abuse—senator slapped a minor repeatedly

Fraser Anning is a right-wing senator in Australia. This action by Senator Anning meets the definition of child abuse, and the whole video should have been deleted. However, Facebook made an exception and allowed this video of child abuse, in clear violation of their own policy.

TLDR CHILD ABUSE: -KID WHO EGG'D SEN FRASER ANNING. Action to take on job: ignore. Issue or abuse type: Graphic Violence. Summary: Videos of the minor who stuck the senator in the head with the egg would normally qualify for child abuse(senator punched a minor) and torture of humans(guards pinned down the minor). HOWEVER, as this video has newsworthy value(it is part of the current debate and being shared via news agencies) we will allow this video without an interstitial.

- Egging video + neutral caption/no caption = ignore
- Egging video + positive reinforcement of the boy's actions(egging) = ignore
e.g. caption Look at this teen who egged the stupid senator [smiling emoji] or salute to this legend[laughing emoji]

- Egging video + any positive reinforcement of the boy getting beaten up = delete e.g. caption: Good job Fraser Anning, by teaching the kid an instant lesson, with a good slap Senator still got some juice in him.

[Heads up][Mark Zuckerberg Live Speech]

Today, Thursday October 17th at 10am PDT/1pm EST, Mark Zuckerberg will be delivering a speech at Georgetown University on freedom of expression, that will be live-streamed from his personal FB profile (<https://www.facebook.com/zuck>). He will underscore the company’s commitment to giving people a voice, while recognizing that we have a responsibility to remove content that has the potential to threaten safety or silence others. He will also touch on important movements that were initiated on Facebook such as Me Too and Black Lives Matter, and provide some examples of hate speech that are not permitted on our platform. Risk & Response and NA Markets have been partnering on risk mitigation steps in partnership with Product teams, but due to the nature of this commentary, we may see escalations or an increase in user reports of hate speech and wanted to provide a heads up on this. Please reach out with any indication of an increase in user reports or in volume.

24. Meme of Trump shooting himself—suicide—allowed

Non-violating since this depicts self-harm. Possibly because it is considered cartoon imagery. It is possible this was a typo in the powerpoint created by Facebook. Normally imagery of suicide is deleted under their self-harm policy.
